

New Year, New You, New Budget

Setting resolutions for the new year has been a worldwide tradition for as long as we have had calendars.

Everyone's resolutions are different, but many of them affect your budget. If you want to exercise more, you might pay for a monthly gym membership. If you want to eat healthier, you may spend more money at the grocery store, but you might save money on takeout. And if your resolution is to own your own home, you need to start saving money for a down payment and improving your credit score.

No matter what your goals are, you don't have to figure out the finances alone. We have amazing savings products and free financial education services that are tailored to your specific needs. Scan the QR code or visit greenpath.com/resources-tools/budgeting-worksheet/ for access to a free interactive budget sheet. Holy Rosary is here to help you meet your resolutions this year, and the next!

Boost Your Financial Wellness: Smart Ways to Use Your Tax Refund

As tax season approaches, many people eagerly anticipate their refunds. While it may be tempting to spend that extra cash right away, consider using your tax refund as an opportunity to build your financial wellness.

One of the smartest ways to use your tax refund is to tackle outstanding debt. High-interest debt, such as credit cards, can weigh heavily on your financial health. By making a significant payment, you can reduce your balance and save money on interest in the long run. This can also help improve your credit score, making it easier for you to secure loans and favorable interest rates in the future.

By focusing on your financial wellness, you can turn a one-time payment into a stepping stone toward long-term stability and success. Need more help? Sign up to meet with our financial counselor for more tips on how to build financial wellness. Here's to making smart financial choices and a prosperous year ahead!

Starting the New Year With Solid Foundations

We are committed to helping our members reach their goal of homeownership, and we provide unique resources to help make this happen.

Need a down payment? Save your tax refund toward a down payment if you can. You may also qualify for a grant of up to $7,500 from the Federal Home Loan Bank.* Information on this program is available at HolyRosaryCU.org/homestart.

Are mortgages confusing for you? We have free advice and support available for our members so they can be confident they're making the right choices and know what to expect when getting their first mortgage. Take advantage of this personal consultation by participating in our Solid Foundations Session. Just go to HolyRosaryCU.org/solid-foundations to sign up!

Think your credit may not be good enough to get a mortgage loan? Sign up for Credit Check Plus. We will show you what has impacted your credit score and what you can do to improve your credit score in 90 days and over 12 months. In addition, we will find ways to lower your monthly payments on loans with other financial institutions, help you eliminate high-interest-rate credit card balances, and educate you on how to protect your credit and credit score so you can always get the best offers on loans and mortgages.

Here's to making your homeownership dreams a reality!
Happy New Year and happy house hunting!

*Offer availability dependent on grant funds availability. Grant may be used towards a down payment and/or closing costs. First-time homebuyer is an individual or an individual and her/his spouse who have not owned a home during the prior 3-year period unless they are a displaced homemaker or a single parent. The purchase of the home with down payment assistance requires that the grant recipient live in the home for five years. If the grant recipient lives in the house fewer than five years, the purchaser will be obligated to return a portion of the grant based on the length of time the grant recipient owned the home.

The Dangers of Sharing Passwords

You probably know that leaving a computer unattended can be dangerous, but have you considered that it can leave your passwords at risk as well? Passwords serve as the first line of defense for your personal information. Whether it's banking details, social media profiles, or online shopping accounts, a strong password can help keep your data safe from prying eyes. Unfortunately, many people underestimate the importance of keeping their password secure.

Sharing passwords might seem harmless, especially among friends, families or companies. However, it can expose you to unintended risks. If someone else has access to your password, they can easily misuse your accounts, leading to unauthorized transactions, data breaches, or even complete account takeovers.

An important rule to remember is that a company will never ask you for your password. Instead, they will encourage you to click "Forgot Password" and change it. If someone asks you for your password, it is most likely fraud.

Treat your passwords like precious information—keep them to yourself and never share them, no matter how trustworthy someone may seem.

Establish an Emergency Fund

Emergency funds provide a safety net during unexpected situations such as medical emergencies, job loss, or urgent home repairs. Being able to pay for these out-of-pocket is a lot cheaper and easier than putting expenses on a credit card, or even worse, getting a payday loan to cover it. Every dollar saved counts and will make those rainy days a little brighter.

To start building an emergency fund, open a savings account separate from your everyday spending, and find ways to consistently save every time you get paid. Even if it is only a few dollars, over time they will snowball into significant savings. Ask us to help you set up an automated transfer each time you are paid and this will increase your success.

By being proactive with your money instead of reactive, you can face life challenges with your head held high.
